Foreword

The absence of vital and critical data is the greatest threat to the rule of law because it sucks efforts to plan effectively for the administration of justice and as a result, cases go unheard as basic fundamental freedoms pale in our ignorance.

The publication of this report as the seminal results of the National Court Case Census that was conducted in December 2015, will therefore, be used as an instrument of planning to tackle the perennial problem of case backlog and design justice interventions that work for all our court users.

The report is the product of tireless efforts of the Taskforce that I constituted to establish the number of pending and backlogged cases in the Courts of Judicature in Uganda. The report shows the pending cases as of 9th December 2015, and provides data on the pending cases in the following categories:

1. Court Level;
2. Case type/category;
3. Age of the case; and,
4. Case backlog for each court level, region and case type.

The report addresses one of the areas of focus in the five-point programme that I set out to improve the administration of justice through reduction of case backlog. Knowledge of the extent of case backlog is critical to any plan to reduce backlog and therefore, the findings of the National Court Case Census, can be used to enhance the effectiveness and efficiency of the courts to deal with delay of cases.

Moreover, publication of the report at this point is timely as it comes at a time when the Judiciary is carrying out information sensitive sector-wide reforms and interventions to strengthen the administration of Justice. The Judiciary is presently preparing for the Strategic Investment Plan IV (SIP-IV) and development of the Judiciary Transformation Plan. The Judiciary has also developed a Performance Measurement Tool and initiated a Schedule of Duties for Registrars and Magistrates. All these initiatives are dependent on accurate data and information, which the Census report has presented in a simple and usable manner.

The report is the product of tireless efforts of the Taskforce that I constituted to establish the number of pending and backlogged cases in the Courts of Judicature in Uganda.

This national court case census should not be a one-off activity; rather it should be undertaken as an annual activity to inform Judiciary planning and celebrate fruits of transformation. As a result of the census, I am constituting a Judiciary Case Backlog Reduction Committee to examine the extent and causes of backlog and make recommendations on sustainable eradication of case backlog in the Courts of Judicature.

Of greater importance, this report indicates and documents pending cases in each court in Uganda. I appeal to all judicial officers to study the cases before their courts and ensure that backlog is eliminated.

Finally, I would also like to extend my sincere appreciation to the tireless efforts of Justice Peter Henry Adonyo, the Chairperson of the National Court Case Census Taskforce and all the members of the Taskforce, for conducting the National Judiciary Court Case Census exercise with speed and accuracy.

I am grateful to the Deputy Chief Justice, the Principal Judge, the Chief Registrar and the Secretary to the Judiciary for monitoring and evaluating the census exercise. I equally thank Mr Andrew Khaukha, the Technical Advisor to the Judiciary and the Justice Law and Order Secretariat (JLOS) for effectively coordinating the activities of the secretariat that managed the census exercise and offering technical assistance, respectively. My gratitude also extends to the Justices and Judges, as well as other staff at the Judiciary, who took time off to participate in the census.

Lastly but not least, the census exercise was informed by technical support from the Uganda Bureau of Statistics (UBOS) headed by its Executive Director, Dr. Ben Mungyereza. I extend my gratitude and that of the Judiciary to UBOS for this immense contribution.

For God and My Country.

Bart M Katureebe
CHIEF JUSTICE

Executive Summary

Overview

The Judiciary of Uganda conducted its first National Court Case Census on the 10th and 11th December 2015 with the sole purpose of establishing the number of pending cases in the courts. This activity had never been completed comprehensively, though the courts have been relying on the register of cases and the statistics from the Court Case Computer Administration System (CCAS) that presented largely inconsistent information on pending cases. Amidst the introduction of CCAS, inconsistent information has continued to exist, thus rendering planning and allocation of human and financial resources not to be in consonance with the workload and caseload.

Against this background, the Hon. Chief Justice, the Hon. Justice Bart M. Katureebe in the year 2015, constituted a National Court Case Census Taskforce chaired by the Hon. Justice Henry Peter Adonyo, and comprised of registrars, magistrates and other key stakeholders within the Justice Law and Order Sector to undertake a physical count of all pending cases in the Judiciary. The objective of the exercise was to establish the number of pending cases throughout various levels of the courts and regions, taking into account the age of the case, the action that needed to be taken, whether there was backlog, and segregation by gender. This information was collected using a data collection instrument that captured the following information pertaining to: case category, case reference number, miscellaneous application number and number of current (or main file CRB/MCB/TOR number), date of registration/claim/offence/cause, details of claimant/complainant/plaintiff, details of accused/defendant/respondent, name of judicial officer/head of coram/unallocated handling the case, current status of the case (i.e. judgment/ruling/hearing/adjourning), date of last action, action required to conclude the case and general remarks.

The exercise was undertaken in all of the courts in Uganda under the supervision of the monitoring and evaluation team comprised of the Hon. the Deputy Chief Justice, by the Hon. the Principal Judge, the Chief Registrar and the Secretary to the Judiciary.

Activities Undertaken

In a bid to effectively undertake the census the following activities were conducted:

1. Taskforce meetings to discuss modalities of undertaking the assignment;
2. Development of an instrument for data collection by the taskforce guided by the Uganda Bureau of Statistics;
3. Assignment of taskforce members to particular High Court circuits, divisions and courts to train enumerators that were to conduct the census;
4. Training of enumerators and taskforce members on administering the instrument;
5. Data capture of pending cases in the census instrument;
6. Training of data entrants on data entry and analysis;
7. Data entry and analysis by the system administrators from the courts;
8. Analysis of the data and preparation of the final report by the taskforce

Findings

The census exercise revealed that there were 114,809 cases pending in the system from all courts in Uganda under the case categories of, among others, Civil, Criminal, Land, Family as shown in the table below.

Challenges

The Court Case Census identified a number of challenges that hinder the administration of justice in Uganda including:

1. Poor record case management system.
2. Absence of specific numbers attached to the court with the view of each court having a unique identifier.
3. Inadequate staffing in some courts.
4. Existence of non-operational courts.
5. General lack of skill in use of ICTs.
6. Lack of computers for data management.
7. Lack of idealism and commitment to the institution among staff to a point where every effort from their side has to be remunerated in monetary terms.
8. Absence of a numbering system of courts.
9. Court proceedings are typed in private secretarial bureaus due to power shortages in some courts.
10. Inadequate ICT hardware and software.
11. Inadequate maintenance of ICT equipment and systems.
12. Limited/shortage of space, e.g. courtrooms and chambers.
13. Sharing of sub-county buildings with the courts.
14. Poor maintenance of court infrastructure.
15. Delayed committal of accused persons to High Court for trial.
16. Absence of service delivery standards to guide uniform approach in handling cases.
17. Current magisterial areas and circuits too large to render, causing difficulty in supervision by the Circuit Judges and Chief Magistrates.
18. Absence of timelines within which the cases should be removed.

Recommendations

As a result of this exercise, the following recommendations are proposed:

1. Development of a practice direction on case management
2. Improvement of the case management systems by reforming registries across the country
3. Court Registry personnel undergo capacity building in terms of data collection, understanding of processes and procedures and data entry. The recruitment of well-qualified staff must be prioritized and additional office and furnishing located for the registries.
4. Implementation of unique numbering of courts, which can be benchmarked from the local government system of numbering districts, in order to ease data collection and supervision
5. Deployment of judicial officers to such circuits, divisions and magisterial areas to eliminate case backlog
6. Encourage synergies with the office of the Directorate of Public Prosecutions among others on the issue of cases that have been delayed on warrants of arrest as well as cases pending committal
7. Motivation of staff to boost commitment
8. Improve the terms and conditions of service of staff to boost minimum service delivery standards

9. Implement the census as part of the Judiciary's strategic planning and development
10. Rationalize circuits and magisterial areas to ensure some minimal utilization of facilities and staff.
For example, the Masaka Chief Magistrate Court covers a total of 17 Magistrate Courts with only one Chief Magistrate to handle over 2,692 cases.
11. Direct judicial officers and support staff to initiate a quality control exercise every two months based on the instrument used in collecting data during the census exercise.

The findings and analysis that inform the above recommendations are discussed in detail in Chapter Three and are categorized based on the short-term, midterm and long-term.

CHAPTER ONE

Introduction and Background

1.1 Introduction

The Judiciary is an arm of the state established under Chapter Eight of the Constitution of Uganda 1995 (as amended) with the constitutional mandate to administer justice through the resolution of disputes, the interpretation of the Constitution and the laws of Uganda, to promote the rule of law, ensure respect for human rights and contribute to the maintenance of order in society. This mandate places the Judiciary at the heart of the administration of justice because it settles disputes between individuals and/or organizations and it conducts trials when violations of law are presented.

The 1995 Constitution redefined the Structure of the Courts to consist of the following Courts: Supreme Court, Court of Appeal/Constitutional Court, High Court and subordinate courts. In the exercise of its Constitutional mandate, Article 126(2) of the Constitution spells out five principles to be followed in the administration of justice, namely: justice shall be done to all irrespective of their social or economic status, justice shall not be delayed, adequate compensation shall be awarded to victims of wrong, reconciliation between parties shall be promoted and substantive justice shall be administered without undue regard to technicalities.

1.2 Composition of the Judiciary

The Judiciary is currently composed of the Supreme Court, Court of Appeal/Constitutional Court, High Court, Chief Magistrates' Courts, Grades I and II Magistrates' Courts.

Supreme Court: This Court is headed by the Hon. Chief Justice and is composed of eleven (11) Justices of the Supreme Court with the mandate to handle appeals from the Court of Appeal and is a court of first instance for presidential election petitions.

Court of Appeal : nThis Court is headed by the Hon. Deputy Chief Justice and is composed of fifteen (15) Justices with the mandate to handle appeals from the High Court and it is the court of first instance in regards to handling constitutional matters.

High Court: This Court is headed by the Hon. Principal Judge and composed of such number of judges deployed in thirteen (13) High Court Circuits and eight (8) divisions of the High Court.

Magistrates' Courts: There are currently thirty nine (39) magisterial areas headed by Chief Magistrates supported by Grades I and II magistrates. The Chief Magistrates handle criminal cases which attract a maximum sentence of life imprisonment and civil cases with pecuniary jurisdiction not exceeding Shillings fifty (50) million.

The Grade I Magistrates handle criminal cases attracting a maximum sentence of fourteen (14) years and civil cases with pecuniary jurisdiction not exceeding Shillings twenty (20) million and the Grade II Magistrates handle criminal cases attracting a maximum sentence of two years and civil cases with pecuniary jurisdiction not exceeding Shillings five thousand (5,000).

1.3 Objectives of the Census

The general objective of the census was to establish the number of pending cases in the Courts with specific emphasis to ascertaining the following:

1. Pattern of distribution of the pending cases according to level of court, circuit, division and region;
2. Number of pending cases in the category of backlog;
3. The case category and age of the case;
4. Number of pending cases per judicial officer; and
5. Disparity in court data inaccuracy.

1.4 Problem Statement

Since the establishment of the modern Ugandan Judiciary, there has never been a Case Court Census exercise conducted to establish the number of pending cases in the Courts. This scenario created uncertainty, disparity and inconsistencies in the number of pending cases because it made it difficult to determine with certainty the allocation of resources, which in turn affected the performance of the Judiciary in the exercise of its constitutional mandate.

The Judiciary computerized its court case administration system in 1997, but since then there has been a disparity between the figures presented by this system on the actual number of cases pending before the courts and what the system had recorded. Further, the reasons for the pending cases before the courts have never been informed by any empirical evidence nor documented with interventions for effective case management. These factors therefore necessitated conducting this national court case census.

1.5 Justification of the Census

This census informs proposals for the establishment of an effective case management system. That system is expected to capture accurate, consistent and timely case statistics, which are essential for the timely and expeditious disposal of cases. The census is to address current inconsistencies in the case statistics which underpin the real and perceived case backlog the courts currently suffer from and has largely contributed to loss of public confidence in the Judiciary.

Further, the census exercise informs the optimal allocation of human, financial, technological and legal resources by the courts. It proposes that courts plan and forecast for the future in order to handle the changes that may occur due to population, delayed handling of cases, litigation culture, globalization, integration and complexity of cases.

Additionally, this census informs and calls for a transformation plan for the Judiciary that aims at having an efficient, effective and accountable institution that is capable of delivering timely and expeditious justice to all Ugandans. This would be in line with the strategic objectives under the Judiciary Strategic Investment Plans.

CHAPTER TWO

Methodology

2.1 Introduction

A number of activities and planning were completed prior to the census exercise. This chapter presents a chronological timeline of what was undertaken in conducting the physical count of the cases in the courts in Uganda.

2.2 Notice of Court Case Census

Prior to undertaking the physical case count, the Chief Registrar wrote to all of the courts in the country to request that they organize their case files and staff in preparation for the physical case count. The letter directed that the registrar notify court users that the courts would be closed for two days (10th and 11th December) in order to handle urgent matters.

2.3 Composition of Taskforce

The Hon. Chief Justice under Office Instruction No. 4 of 2015 constituted a taskforce to undertake the assignment as seen from the composition below.

Task Force Meetings

Several taskforce meetings were held to agree on the mode of undertaking the exercise. During these meetings the taskforce members, with the guidance of officers from the Uganda National Bureau of Statistics, developed a data collection instrument intended to promote a uniform approach in the data collection exercise to avoid inconsistencies in data collection. During the taskforce meetings, teams were constituted and assigned particular stations to supervise during the census exercise.

Training of Taskforce Members

Taskforce members were trained on (i) how to administer the data collection instrument to ensure a uniform approach in entering data, and (ii) how to train people that would enter data in the data instruments.

2.4 Data Collection Instrument

The taskforce, in conjunction with the Uganda Bureau of Statistics, developed a data collection instrument to aid the collection of data during the physical case count with specific emphasis on gathering the following information.

1. Case category to distinguish between civil or criminal;
2. Case reference number and date of registration to know when the case was filed;
3. Miscellaneous application number and number of current or main file to know how many applications are arising out of a case;
4. CRB/MCB/TOR number to know the origin of the case/claim/offence/cause, details of claimant/complainant/plaintiff, details of accused/defendant/ respondent, name of Judicial officer/head of Coram/unallocated cases;
5. Current status of the case, i.e. judgment/ruling/hearing/adjourning, date of last action;
6. Action required to conclude the case, and
7. General remarks

In addition, the data collection instrument contained an enumerator's manual to guide data entrants on how to administer the instrument and where there were challenges telephone contacts were provided to aid consultation.

Pre-testing

The pilot exercise was undertaken to test the methodology and data collection instrument to ascertain the efficacy of the data collection instrument and this was undertaken by the members of the taskforce in courts around Kampala such as High Court Divisions, Nabweru Chief Magistrates' Court, Makindye, Buwama and Mpigi courts.

The members of the taskforce provided feedback on the effectiveness of the data collection instrument and made proposals that informed the final version of the instrument.

Clustering of the Teams

The census exercise was administered using the existing structures. The courts in Uganda were clustered according to levels i.e. from the Supreme Court, Court of Appeal, High Court and Magistrate Courts.

Data Collection

The census was conducted on the 10th and 11th December 2015. 9th December 2015 was the census night and cutoff date.

2.5 Meeting with Heads of Courts, Circuits and Divisions

The taskforce members assigned to particular courts, circuits or divisions met and consulted with the judges or registrars in charge of the circuit or court on how the exercise was to be undertaken. The taskforce also consulted with division heads in developing the data collection instrument.

2.6 Categorization of Courts

The census exercise was undertaken using the existing administrative structures of the courts clustered according to circuits (Mbale, Lira, Gulu, Jinja, Masindi, Fort Portal, Kabale, Mbarara, Arua, Masaka, Nakawa,) court level (Supreme and Court of Appeal) and divisions (Criminal, Commercial, Land, Civil, Executions, Family, International Crimes Division and the Anti-Corruption Division).

2.7 Physical Count and Verification

Physical file count and verification of all pending case files in court registries were completed by Registry staff and a sticker bearing a number was attached on each file counted under the supervision of the Head of the registry of the court. The head of the registry would then report to the head of the station (Judge/Magistrate) with data collection instruments for verification and signature. The verification entailed the Judge/Magistrate inspecting the data collection instrument to ensure that the information had been captured accurately per the instructions provided in the enumerators' manual. The head of the station would then hand over the completed instruments to the taskforce representative who would go through the same verification exercise before submitting the instruments to the court case census taskforce secretariat. The secretariat on receipt of the data collection instruments verified and signed for receipt of the instrument.

2.8 Comparative Analysis on Uganda Court Case Census with the Kenyan Court Case Audit Exercise

The census taskforce considered lessons from the Kenya Court case audit, Kenya being the only country within the East African region that conducted a court case audit in 2013-2014. The comparative study was conducted to draw lessons with the view to inform Uganda court case census in light of Uganda and Kenya having similar socio-economic circumstances.

The Kenyan Judiciary Case Audit and Institutional Capacity Survey was a project sponsored by the World Bank under the Judiciary Performance Improvement Project (JPIP) and was undertaken by the Performance Management Directorate through the entire country to establish baseline data of all pending cases, the extent of caseload, case backlog, type/nature of pending cases and reasons for the case backlog.

The audit looked at efficiency of judicial officers in terms of how many cases each officer handles, period of time of case-handling, human and infrastructural capacity at the courts and courts' efficiency. A total of 156 courts were involved including: 1 Supreme Court, 6 Courts of Appeal, 20 High Court stations, 112 Magistrates Courts and 17 Kadhi Courts. The data helped the Kenya Judiciary reduce case backlog, improving accountability for performance in the Judiciary and increase efficiencies in the management of courts and other court processes. A case was classified as backlogged when it was not concluded within 12 months of its being filed in Kenya.

The survey established that on average, a judicial officer handles 29 case hearings per week while disposing 33 cases per month. This implied that the Judiciary required on average 1,140 days (3.12 years) to clear all the cases in the court system without admitting any new ones. The Kenya case audit revealed a shortage of court prosecutors, frequent adjournments and inadequate number of judicial officers as the main causes of case backlog. Other reasons included lack of witnesses, frequent transfers of judicial officers, distance to courts, delays in producing remanded prisoners in court, delay in executing warrants of arrest, and unplanned workshops that sometimes remove judicial officers from the stations.

This comparative study informed the taskforce census exercise although Kenya was an in-depth case audit.

2.9 Data Analysis

Upon receipt of all the data collection instruments, a team comprising of systems administrators from the courts around Kampala were trained to process and analyze the data. The training focused on how to capture the data using computer software developed by the ICT unit of the Judiciary in line with the data collection instrument.

2.10 Report Writing

Upon completion of the data entry and analysis, reporting was completed by the subcommittees of the taskforce and each subcommittee was assigned a chapter. Each subcommittee presented a chapter to the taskforce plenary with the view of building consensus on the report.
