Magisterial Areas increased to 157 in a move to increase access to Justice by the population

The Chief Justice, Alfonse Chigamoy Owiny – Dollo, in consultation with the Minister of Justice and Constitutional Affairs, has issued the Magistrates Courts (Magisterial Areas and Magistrates Courts) Instrument 2024 No. 11 that will see each district headed by a Chief Magistrate.

The new Statutory Instrument has created 157 new Magisterial Areas and 696 Magistrates Courts. It has also revoked Statutory Instrument No. 11 of 2017 that had established 82 Magisterial Areas and 396 Magistrates Courts.

The Instrument has also seen Buganda Road Chief Magistrates Court which previously handled only criminal matters now taking on civil matters.

“All civil matters which were previously filed and pending hearing under the Mengo Chief Magistrates Court, but originating from the Central Division of Kampala Capital City shall be transferred to Buganda Road Chief Magistrates Court,” the Instrument reads in part.

Similarly, Mengo Chief Magistrates Court which has been handling only civil matters will now start hearing criminal matters which were previously filed and pending hearing under Buganda Road Chief Magistrates Court, but originating from Rubaga Division of Kampala Capital City.

This new development will see a movement of files from one Court to the other. To effectively manage this transition, a taskforce headed by the Chief Registrar, Her Worship Sarah Langa Siu, will oversee operations of the two Courts.

The other highlights of the new Instrument, is the gazetting of all Remand Homes as Magistrates Courts as a means to enhance juvenile justice. Courts have also been gazetted in all municipalities in the country.

The Chief Justice observed that more Courts and Justice Centers shall be built across the country to ensure that the new Instrument is fully implemented. He also observed that the Judiciary management has agreed on a standard and uniform Court design for all the Court levels across the country.

Justifying the expansion of the Magisterial structure, the Chief Justice also noted that the target is to have District/City Courts headed by Chief Magistrates, and County/Constituency Courts manned by a Magistrate Grade I.

“It is the desire of the Judiciary that people should no longer move hundreds of kilometers to seek for Court services,” he said.

On her part, the Chief Registrar, observed that establishing more Courts across the country is geared at enhancing access to justice, eliminating case backlog and implementing the Judiciary's transformation agenda of taking judicial services closer to the people.

She added that new courts will be operationalized when more Judicial Officers are recruited. Currently, there are 91 Chief Magistrates and 368 Magistrates Grade I serving in different courts across the Country.
